PROFILE

PhD in Social Anthropology with 9+ years of experience in strategic communications, project coordination, financial management, and transnational advocacy. Experienced in the full cycle of project and communication work: grant writing and submission, budget monitoring and financial reporting, event organisation, content strategy, social media management, newsletter and podcast production, editorial coordination, and audiovisual production. Proven ability to manage complex, multi-stakeholder initiatives across international and multicultural environments — from grassroots movements in Brazil to global feminist networks spanning 90+ countries. Trilingual (Portuguese, Spanish, English) with a track record of building and coordinating distributed teams in remote settings. Fully committed to a long-term institutional project from its very foundation.
